Evan La Ruffa studied nonprofit development at the University of St. Thomas in St. Paul, MN as part of their Justice & Peace Studies program. Having participated in study abroad courses in Bangladesh & El Salvador, he focused on market-driven approaches to nonprofit development & community organizing.

Upon returning to Chicago after college, Evan became a Community Engagement Specialist for the Citizens Utility Board (CUB) and subsequently founded IPaintMyMind, a nonprofit arts organization & gallery, whose mission is to make art accessible to everyone, and for whom he serves as the Executive Director & Lead Curator.

His focus on digital strategy & sustainable development has allowed IPaintMyMind to flourish, and he hopes to help more nonprofits rethink their development strategies in an effort to positively affect the future of good work.
